

Oman: Family Festival for Safety and Energy

11 May 2009

MUSCAT -- The Family Festival for Safety and Energy, sponsored by Muscat Electricity Distribution Company, kicks off tomorrow. Other sponsors include Majan Power Company and Mazoun Power Company. The festival, which has the theme "Lighting without Loss", continues till Thursday. Oman Establishment for Press, Publication and Advertising (OEPPA), publishers of Oman Daily Observer and Oman (Arabic) is the media sponsor of the event.

Salman bin Ali al Hattali, Director of Subscriber Service Department at Muscat Electricity Company, said that the festival is aimed at spreading awareness about the importance of electricity in daily life and means of saving power. The festival focuses on the dangers of tampering with electricity, types of first aid in electrocution cases and property protection against loss caused by power leakage, Al Hattali said. The target members of the society are children, who are found to be more vulnerable and more likely to play with electrical appliances.
